A clear next step for home-finance interest

Home finance requires trust and consideration. The campaign was designed to connect the aspiration of home ownership with a practical enquiry process, while maintaining a professional tone suitable for financial services.

CAMPAIGN OBJECTIVE

Generate home-finance enquiries through Meta Instant Forms.

MY ROLE

Strategy, creative, copy, setup and ongoing optimization

The challenge

Potential customers may be interested in home finance but hesitate to share their details. The campaign needed to feel credible, relevant and easy to understand while avoiding aggressive language or unrealistic approval claims.

What I handled

Campaign planning and setup

Creative concept and execution

Ad copy and headline writing

Audience structure and testing

Lead-form setup

Performance review and optimization

A practical campaign system

The campaign was built as a repeatable process rather than a single ad. Each stage had a clear job: attract attention, make the offer easy to understand, remove friction and improve efficiency.

01

Frame the opportunity

The message connected home ownership with a clear invitation to learn more about available finance options.

02

Use a credible tone

The creative and copy were designed to feel professional and informative, not like a guaranteed-approval promotion.

03

Make enquiry easy

The form was structured around the essential details needed for a useful follow-up conversation.

04

Optimize responsibly

Results were reviewed at ad level, with decisions guided by lead volume, cost per lead and consistency over time.

Optimization loop

Decisions were based on lead volume, cost per lead and individual ad performance.

The result

The campaign generated close to one hundred platform-reported home-finance leads at an efficient average cost per result.

What made it work

High-consideration services do not need aggressive advertising. A credible message and a simple enquiry path can move interested users toward a real conversation.
